

Fueling the Lives of Pennsylvanians

As one of the largest producers of natural gas in Pennsylvania, with field offices in Sayre and Harrisburg, Chesapeake is fueling the lives of Pennsylvanians every day. Since 2011, Chesapeake has paid more than $135 million in impact fees which are paid to local communities where we operate, as well as to state agencies. State and municipal governments may use these impact fee funds for road improvements, emergency preparedness and response, environmental protection, social services, records management and tax reduction.

Headquartered in Oklahoma City, Chesapeake's operations are focused on discovering and developing its large and geographically diverse resource base of unconventional oil and natural gas assets onshore in the United States. The company also owns oil and natural gas marketing and natural gas gathering and compression businesses.
