

Fueling Lives in Wyoming

As a growing operator in Wyoming's Powder River Basin, with expanding field offices in Casper and Douglas, Chesapeake is fueling the lives of Wyomingites every day, as one of the largest oil producers in the state. According to the U.S. Energy Information Administration, Wyoming was the sixth-largest crude oil-producing state in the nation in 2018. The Petroleum Association of Wyoming reported that in 2015, Wyoming's petroleum industry directly employed more than 20,400 people with an annual payroll of just over $1.1 billion. In fiscal year 2015, oil and gas production contributed $714.1 million in property taxes, $682.2 million in services taxes, $145.2 million in state royalties and $209 million in sales and use taxes.
